

English communication skills with a focus on aspects of international social work / General part of the degree program

2 hrs per week / 3 credits

Ms E. Leimbach

The aim of the course is to enable you to communicate with confidence and increase your knowledge and awareness of social topics such as poverty, conflict transformation and preconceptions. The interactive teaching methods (in English only) help you improve your oral fluency, express your interests and opinions and engage in discussions. Toward the end of the course, you will make a presentation on a self-chosen topic within the field of social work.
